ADD. H. SANDERS, EDITOR.

CITY OF EVANSVILLE. THURSDAY MORNING,SEPT.

Mr. Willard and his Speech. From our accounts of Mr. Willard, he is a good stump orator, one of the best in the State -but when that's said, he has received the highest praise his abilities deserve. We have yet to hear of one man whom he convinced by his speech here. He drew a large crowd, which was presided over by a gentleman who advocated at one time, as we well recollect, and before "Know Nothings" were known on the earth, doctrines very similar in one respect at least to that advocated by the warmer Know Nothings. He was then of very decided opinion that it would be a great outrage to elect to office a foreigner over an American, when a foreigner and American were opposing candidates. It is probable, however, that he was somewhat influenced to the formation of this opinion by being then a candidate for the Legislature, and having a foreign born citizen as an opponent! Probably Mr. Venneman, the German candidate, can tell us whether or not he was not electioneered against by the Doctor on this ground. However, as the Chairman was an unimportant matter, we don't suppose his antecedents are worth troubling ourselves about. He has a good government least till he is superceded.

We have been informed by several gentle men who heard the speech, that Mr. Willard took up an article charging him with having by his casting vote placed in the Prohibitory Liquor Law the most stringent provision in itand accused us of being a Know Nothing for not knowing that there was nothing in the new Constitution giving the President of the Senate a casting vote-that he had given no such casting vote-that the amendment alluded to by us, which he read, was passed by a vote of 28 to 18, &c., &c. As regards his statement about this casting vote we shall which the attack was to be made. He took take occasion to-morrow or next day to nail it to the Mayor of the city, showed it to him, hitherward, and onward to the ocean. And pardonable attempt to deceive this community. He was in such a condition at times du- told the Mayor that the church was his propforgetfulness on his part was quite excusablebut in this case there is scarcely a possiblity. They waited till towards midnight, when a body gotten it; or if his memory were weak, it is of stones at him and the church; after this scarcely probable he has failed to investigate brave exploit, frightened by the sight of a gun, the little matter of that vote. We shall give and half a dozen men, they turned and fled .-

But what does Mr. Willard mean by attemptence of at least ordinary intelligence, that he have these facts from an old and respectable was not empowered as President of the Senate to give a casting vote? Why in his speechand we hope his forgetfulness had no such so little difference, that we would not take can take the palm. ten steps to lay our hand on the Statutes to investigate the matter. It is enough to know, that it is general Parliamentary usage, unnecassary to be stated in Statutes for a rule of any legislative boby-and that there is no legislative body in the country in which the usage o rule does not exist. This was a most contemptible trick on the part of Mr. Willard, and unworthy of his position as a man, although perfectly compatable with his character as a politician. We are necessarily brief to-day, yet it is not required to farther allude to so infinitely small a matter as this. Our readers can only form their own impression as to how far the public statements of such a man should go with the people, and how excellent are his qualifications for the office of Governor of Indiana, to secure the nomination United States. of which he is now exhibiting his party devotion, by traveling over Southern Indiana mak-
